

VirginiaTech

University Outreach
and International Affairs

Institute for Policy & Governance

205 West Roanoke Street (0489)
Blacksburg, Virginia 24061
540/231-6775 Fax: 540/231-6722
E-mail: ipg@vt.edu
www.ipg.vt.edu

Dr. Ioannis Stivachtis is Associate Professor of International Relations and Director of the International Studies Program at Virginia Tech. He holds a Ph.D. in Politics & International Relations and an M.A. in International Relations & Strategic Studies from Lancaster University (UK); and a Postgraduate Certificate in International Law and a B.A. in International & European Studies from Panteion University (Greece). He has been holder of a multi-year scholarship awarded by the State Scholarship Foundation of the Hellenic Republic. His research interests include International Security, Conflict Analysis, Cooperative Security, Arms Control and Disarmament, International Relations Theory, and European Union's Enlargement and Foreign Relations.

Other current positions and activities include: Member of the Academic Committee and Head of the Politics & International Affairs Research Unit - Athens Institute of Education and Research (ATINER); Scientific Expert, European Commission - Research Directorate General; Scientific Advisor, Department of International Cooperation and Development, International Olympic Committee (IOC); Vice-President and Program Co-Chair, Comparative and Interdisciplinary Studies Section (CISS) - International Studies Association (ISA); Secretary, English School Section (ESS) - ISA; Member of the International Advisory Board, Research Institute for European & American Studies (RIEAS); and Member of the Society for the Study of Difference (SSD). Dr. Stivachtis is also member of professional organizations such as ISA, EUSA, APSA, and BISA, as well as member of working groups such as the European Consortium for Political Research (ECPR) Standing Group on Security Issues and the Standing Group on Sovereignty and Its Discontents (SAID). In addition, he is Member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Global Change and Governance; while he is serving as Associate Reviewer for The European Journal of International Relations; The International Journal of Diversity in Organizations, Communities, and Nations; and the journal of Peace, Conflict and Development. Finally, he is manuscript reviewer for Ashgate, Blackwell, and Oxford University Press.

Invent the Future

His previous academic and professional appointments include: Academic Dean and International Relations Program Director at IFM University (Switzerland); Diplomacy & International Relations Program Advisor at Schiller International University (Switzerland); Visiting Associate Professor at The International University-Vienna (Austria); Visiting Professor at the Geneva School of Diplomacy (Switzerland); Visiting Lecturer at the European Institute of the University of Geneva; Scientific Advisor of the Austrian Federal Ministry of Education and Culture; Scientific Expert working with the Austrian Federal Ministries of Foreign Affairs and Defense; Research Fellow and Project Consultant at the United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research (UNIDIR); Senior Fellow at the Austrian Institute for Strategic Studies (IIS); Senior Researcher and Consultant at ARIS Research & Consulting Office for Security Studies (Austria); and Research Fellow at the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE). He has also taught in various diplomatic and military academies.

He is the author of Co-operative Security and Non-Offensive Defense in the Zone of War (Frankfurt: Peter Lang, 2001); The Enlargement of International Society (London: Macmillan, 1998); Good Governance and Political Conditionality: The Standard of 'Civilization' in Contemporary International Society (forthcoming); and In Search of Peace and Security: The United Nations and Regional International Organizations and Groups (forthcoming); Co-author of Non-Offensive Defense in the Middle East (New York: United Nations Publications 1998); Editor of Global Affairs in a Turbulent World: Perspectives and Controversies (Athens: ATINER 2008); The State of European Integration (Aldershot: Ashgate, 2007); International Order in a Globalizing World (Aldershot: Ashgate, 2007); International Governance & International Security (Athens: ATINER, 2005); Current Issues in European Integration (Athens: ATINER, 2004); Co-editor of Turkey-European Union Relations: Dilemmas, Opportunities and Constraints (Lanham, MD: Lexington Books, 2008); European Union's Mediterranean Enlargement (Frankfurt: Peter Lang, 2000) and The Economic Dimension of Turkey's Accession to the European Union (forthcoming). Dr. Stivachtis has written more than 40 articles and chapters published edited volumes and journals like the Journal of Political and Military Sociology, Global Dialogue, Journal of Strategic Studies, Mediterranean Politics, Mediterranean Quarterly, and Europe-Asia Studies.